" This is one of the most laborious & most useful works ever published for the advancement of Hebrew knowledge and the understanding of the Old Testament in its original language. It is, in fact, a Grammar, Lexicon and Concordance, founded on the Concordance of Buxtorf, all whose errors Dr. Taylor has corrected. He has also inserted the word or words, by which any Hebrew word is translated in the English Bible; and where the Hebrew is not literally rendered, a literal translation is added. In general, all change or difference in the two texts is diligently marked, and Dr. T. has added all the words (about one hundred and twenty one in number) which Buxtorf had omitted; together with the particles out of Abolius."

" This invaluable work was published under the patronage of all the English and Irish bishops, and is a monument to their honour, as well as to the learning and industry of its author. The price of this Concordance varies from nine to twelve guineas, according to its condition."

My LORDS,

IN this Manner the Author presumes to make his grateful Acknowledgments of your Lordships generous Encouragement of this Work ; and to assure your Lordships, that it had a great Effect in carrying it on. Whatever it is, certainly it would have been much less perfect, without your Lordships favourable Regards. When in compiling the Concordance he had already gone through a very tedious Task, he could not but be inclined to refuse any additional Labour : But he felt the powerful Influence of your Lordships Patronage. It wrought vigorously in his Mind, and gave him Life and Spirit to attempt any Thing, that might render the Book more compleat and serviceable. All the sincere Lovers of sacred Literature must be delighted to observe your Lordships Readiness to Countenance a Design of this Nature.

THAT the Churches of England and Ireland may always be Happy in Prelates of the same excellent Disposition, is the sincere Wish of,

My LORDS,

Your Lordships most grateful,

most humble, and most

obedient Servant,

JOHN TAYLOR.

An ACCOUNT of the several Editions of the Hebrew Concordance ; of Buxtorf's Reformation of it ; of this Performance, and it's Usefulness. Note, This Preface ought to be carefully perused, by the Student, before he begins to use the Concordance.

S E C T. I.

An Account of the several Editions of the Hebrew Concordance *.

THE First that ingaged in the laborious Work of the Hebrew Concordance was R. Nathan, a Jew. His Book was publish'd at Venice, 1523 ; but with great Faults and Defects. Many Words and Places are wholly omitted. The Verbs, Nouns, Participles, &c. which are derived from any Root, as also their several Conjugations, Moods, Tenses, Genders, Numbers, &c. are all promiscuously huddled together under it. Words that come from Roots of a like Signification, as איש and אניש, יצב and נצב, are confusedly plac'd under but one of those Roots ; as if they were all derived from it, and did not severally belong to the one or to the other.

A second Edition of this Concordance was printed at Basil, 1581, by Ambrose Froben ; in which some of the Faults in the Venice Edition were corrected, but without altering the Form, or supplying the Defects.

A third Edition came out at Rome, 1621, by Frier Marius de Calasso. A sumptuous and splendid Work, which swell'd into four large Folios, by adding, (1.) A Latin Translation of R. Nathan's Explication of the several Roots, with the Author's own Enlargements. (2.) The Rabinical, Chaldean, Syriac, and Arabic Words derived from the Hebrew Root, or agreeing with it in Signification. (3.) A literal Version of the Hebrew Text. (4.) The Variations of the vulgar Latin, and Septuagint. (5.) The proper Names of Men, Rivers, Mountains, &c. In this Edition faulty Numbers and Places are carefully corrected : But the Order and Method is the same as in the first Edition, and few or none of the deficient Places are restored.

Lastly, John Buxtorf, that learned and indefatigable Propagator of the Hebrew Language, undertook to correct and reform the preceding Editions ; and happily succeeded, by casting it into a Form quite new, and clothing it in a beautiful and elegant Dress. It was publish'd after his Death, by his Son, at Basil, 1632.

The learned Dean Prideaux, in his Connection, Part I. Book V, praises Buxtorf's Performance in these Words. “ R. Nathan made a Concordance to the Hebrew Bible, for the Use of the Jews : — and the “ first publishing of it happening about the Time that Printing was first invented, it has since that Time “ undergone several Editions from the Press. That which was printed at Basil by Buxtorf the Son, Anno “ 1632, is the BEST of them. For Buxtorf the Father had taken great Pains about it to make it more “ correct and compleat ; and Buxtorf the Son added also his Labours to those of his Father for the per- “ fecting of it, and publish'd it with both their Improvements in the Year I have mentioned : And by rea- “ son of the Advantages it hath received herefrom, it deservedly hath the Reputation of being the perfect- “ est and best Book of its kind that is extant : And indeed is so useful for the Understanding of the He- “ brew Scriptures, that no one, who employs his Studies this way, can well be without it, being the best “ Dictionary, as well as the best Concordance to them †.” This is the Book I follow ; and therefore am oblig'd to give a more particular Account of it.

An Account of Buxtorf's Concordance.

IT takes in all the Words in the Hebrew Bible, except the Particles and proper Names. Though of these too there is a Sprinkling ; and of the latter, the proper Names, not an inconsiderable Number. Perhaps as many as can be of any Use in giving Light to the Scriptures. For the Derivation of the greatest

* See the Preface to Buxtorf's Hebrew Concordance, whence this Account of the three first Editions is taken.

† Robertson in the Preface to his Thesaurus linguae Sanctae thus extols Buxtorf's Concordance. Volumen illud magnum, praeclarum, & mirandum, clarissimi simul & eruditissimi, illius Viri, maximique Rabbini Christiani, D. D. Joannis Buxtorfii patris, immenso penè labore & studio exanilatam, & clarissimi etiam viri, nec minus eruditi, D. D. Joannis Buxtorfii filii, diligentia accuratâ, et eruditione summâ, in lucem editum ; — opus, ad textum Hebraicum intelligendum, & resolvendum, ante alia omnia, longe utilissimum ; &c.

The P R E F A C E.

Part is too uncertain to be of any Service in this respect; and the Places, where they are used, will be more readily found in a good English Concordance. The Chaldean Concordance is made intirely new, and compleat, excepting only proper Names.

Great Care was taken to correct all the Faults, and supply all the Defects of the former Editions; distinct Lists of which Faults and Defects are given at the End of the Book. But the principal Object of Buxtorf's Attention was the Order and Method. The Method of the foregoing Editions is obscure, perplex'd, difficult, without Art and unpleasant; for under the same Root, both its Primitives and Derivatives, as also the Inflexions, and different Forms of each, are promiscuously jumbled together: Which must be extremely tedious and disagreeable to the Reader. But here, in Buxtorf's Concordance, all lies plain and obvious to his Eye, in a very clear, regular, ingenious, easy and pleasant Method, according to the Rules of Grammar, and the common Forms of Lexicons.

The Root, generally consisting of three Letters, is planted at the Head of the Words derived from it, in large conspicuous Characters. To this is subjoined R. Nathan's Explication of it in Rabbinical Hebrew and Characters. Then follow the several Branches growing from the Root, with a Latin Translation of each, in this Order; first the Verbs, and then the Nouns derived from them. But where the Noun is the Primitive, as in מטר Pluvia, there the Nouns come first, and the Verbs derived from it follow after.

Verbs are regularly digested into Conjugations, Moods, Tenses, Numbers, Persons, Genders; in the same Order as in the Examples in Buxtorf's Hebrew Grammar. I. The Conjugations are ranked thus, Kal, Niphal, Pibel, Pyhal, Hiphal, Hophal, Hiithpaal, which are distinctly mark'd in capital Letters as they occur under every Root. In the Conjugation Niphal the Reader is desir'd carefully to distinguish between the Preterperfect Tense and the Participle, which sometimes have the same Form, lest he should look for his Word in a wrong Place. II. The Tenses and Moods are rang'd in this Order; 1. The Preterperfect Tense. 2. Participle Benoni. 3. Participle of the Preterperfect Tense. 4. The Infinitive Mood. 5. Imperative Mood. 6. Future Tense. Observe, in this Tense the second Person masculine, and the third Person feminine, are of the same Form. III. The singular Number naturally precedes the Plural. IV. The Persons in the Preterperfect Tense advance from the Third to the First; but in the Imperative and Future from the First to the Third. V. The Masculine Gender is always set before the Feminine.

Where the Class of Nouns begins Buxtorf sets an (+), which I have changed into an Asterism (*), before the first Noun, to direct the Eye at one glance where to find a Noun, that no Time may be lost in a fruitless Search among the Verbs. And the same Mark is repeated as oft as the Noun puts on a new Form.

In both Nouns and Participles, the absolute Form stands first, and then the constructed. In each of these the simple Nouns come first, with their Prefixes and Suffixes, and then the Irregulars and Compounds. The Prefixes always keep this Order, 1. ה. 2. ו. 3. ב. 4. כ. 5. ל. 6. מ. 7. ש. The Suffixes preserve the natural Order of Persons and Numbers, proceeding from the first to the third Person, from the singular to the plural Number.

With regard to the various Readings [קרי and כתרב] that Reading which is called Keri, whose Vowels are in the Text, and Consonants in the Margin of Hebrew Bibles, is inserted in the Concordance as the Principal and true Reading.

One and the same Word is sometimes placed under different Significations of the same Root; and sometimes under different Roots, according to the different Acceptation of it by the Interpreters, or Jewish Doctors. As ותרך is found both under רך 795: 65. and under רור 1757: 5. See also 1761: 15, and 1800: 78. Also 1283: 12, 17. and several others.

Under every Hebrew Word all the Places, where it is found in the Bible, are rang'd in the same Order of the Books, as in the English Bible, setting first a Part of the Verse, as in our English Concordances, then the Name of the Book, next the Chapter, and lastly the Verse, all in Hebrew Characters. Note, The Chapters and Verses are generally, but not always, divided as in the English Bible.

These are the main Things worthy of Note in the Frame of Buxtorf's Concordance.

S E C T. III.

Giving an Account of this Performance: And first of what is here omitted, and altered, from that of Buxtorf.

AS to this Performance, I have followed Buxtorf intirely, excepting the following Omissions, Alterations, and Additions.

I. I have OMITTED R. Nathan's Explication of the Roots, which Buxtorf himself did not think worth translating, and instead thereof have inserted my own Explications, of which an Account is given below, SECT. IV. §. 3.

II. I have ALTERED all the Faults which I found in Buxtorf; not only correcting those which he discover'd himself, and which he has noted at the End of his Book; but also all others that escaped his Observation; which were very numerous, and gave me much Hindrance and Trouble. Particularly, I have reduced those Words to their proper Order and Situation, which he hath set in wrong Places; which amount to a considerable Number.

Instead of the Pieces of Hebrew taken from the Texts, where any Word is found, I have inserted the Word or Words, by which it is translated in the English Bible. And if the Hebrew Word is translated, in more Places than one, by the same English Word or Words, I have set all the Texts, where it is so translated, translated, in their proper Order after that Word or Words, expressing the Book, Chapter and Verse, after the common Manner of quoting Texts of Scripture in English Books. And this, and the whole Work, with my own Hand, without employing or trusting to any other Person, I have executed, with great Care and Exactness, turning to, and examining, every Text always, in the English Bible, and very often, in dubious Cases, in the Hebrew too.

If the Hebrew Word is in other Places translated by a different English Word, I put down that different Word, and place under it all the Texts where it is so differently translated; and so on, throughout all the different Translations in the Bible, prefixing before every different Translation the Paragraph mark (§) as a Guide to the Eye; readily to discover any particular Translation sought for. Which, when it is found, the Text, that the Student is examining, must be looked for, under that Head, or Translation, and no other. For Example, [Verba tua דבריך thy Words Josh. 1. 18. Judg. 13. 12. 1 Sam. 15. 24. &c. § thy Matters 2 Sam. 15. 3. — 19. 29. § thy Acts 1 Kings 10. 6. 2 Chron. 9. 5. &c. See Root 352: N° 147. Note, The Numbers at the Top of the Pages, are the Numbers of the Roots, not of the Pages.] This is the general Method.

When the same Hebrew Word is twice or thrice used in the same Text, and is as many Times translated by the same English Word, then the Figure belonging to that Text is twice or thrice repeated. Example; [halt—uncover Lev. 18. 15, 15. this Day 2 Sam. 19. 5, 5, 6, 6, 6.] Shalt uncover is found twice in Lev. 18. 15. This Day is found twice 2 Sam. 19. 5. and thrice 2 Sam. 19. 6.

When the same Word occurs, twice or thrice, in the English Translation, but the Hebrew Words, corresponding thereto are in any respect different, then I mark the English Word, which belongs to it's proper Hebrew Word, generally, by adding in the Italic Character the Word which stands next before or after it, whereby it is distinguish'd from the other same English Words, which belong to different Hebrew Words in the Original. For Example; [rejected Knowledge Hof. 4. 6.] rejected, before [knowledge] shews, that is the Word by which הדעת is translated, and not the word [Knowledge] which goeth before in the same Verse. See Root 734: 208.

When the same Hebrew Word, translated by the same English Word, occurs successively, in several Verses together, I sometimes, though but rarely, draw a Line between the first and last of those Verses, to signify, that it is to be found in all the intermediate Verses.

When the Hebrew is not literally translated, to the English Word or Words, I add a literal Translation. As; [Impudent † strong of Forehead] which is thus to be read, [impudent, in the Hebrew, strong of Forehead.] This Mark (†) signifies, in the Hebrew. And it is not only used in the forementioned Case; but also,

When the Division of Chapter and Verses in the Hebrew differs from the Division in the English Bible, I generally give both the Divisions in this manner, [Ezek. 21. 13 † 18. Lev. 6. 6. † 5. 25.] that is, Ezek. 21. 13. in the English Bible, but Verse 18, in the Hebrew Bible: Lev. 6. 6. in the English, but Lev. 5. 25. in the Hebrew Bible; meaning the Hebrew Bible of Vanderbooght's Edition; though that differs not much in the Divisions of Chapters and Verses from other Hebrew Bibles. This will be a great Ease to the Student, who otherwise would be perplexed with those different Divisions. But here I except the Book of Psalms, where the Hebrew maketh a Verse, and sometimes two; of the Title: but the English always begins the Division of the Verses with the Psalm. This is so well known, that there was no occasion to take any Notice of it in the Concordance.

These, with some other small Particulars, by a little Use, will be easy and familiar.

S E C T. IV.

What I have added to Buxtorf's Concordance.

III. I Have ADDED,

1. All the Words, I could find, that Buxtorf hath omitted; which, taking in היה and it's Derivatives, amount to about one Hundred twenty one. Of these you have a List at the End of this Preface.

2. I have taken all the Particles out of Noldius, and inserted them into this Work; not indeed to compleat it as Concordance, but as a Dictionary. For I have not set down all the Texts, nor any of the minute Observations he makes. This would have destroyed the Simplicity of my Concordance. Besides, I judg'd it quite needless, as the Book may easily be read by any one who understands Latin, and may be procur'd at as cheap a Price, perhaps, as it could have been afforded, had it been reprinted in my Book. Nor do I believe it could have been done more correctly than the Jena Edition; which I have examin'd with Care, and found it far more exact in the numerous Quotations than I expected; having been, as far as I remember, but once disappointed by a Mistake in the Figures. And as for the English Reader, it would have been impossible to have made Noldius of any considerable Service to him.

However, I have taken such Extracts out of Noldius, as will exercise the Judgment, and give a good Degree of Satisfaction to the Studious in Scripture-Knowledge. For I have taken in all his Senses of any Particle, (leaving him to be answerable for the Justness of them) and have added a competent Number of Texts to each Sense; most of which Texts I have examined, the rest are only transcrib'd. But observe; those Particles which Buxtorf has inserted in his Concordance, appear in the same Form and Order with the rest of the Book: What I have taken out of Noldius is distinguish'd from the Rest of the Work, by being included in Brackets [], one at the Beginning, the other at the End of the Particle. Note, 1. The [&c.] among among the Particles, refers to other Places, which Noldius has produc'd, where the Particle, in that Sense, is to be found. 2. The separable Particles, as Noldius calls them, such as אֶחָד, &c. are to be found in this Concordance, under the first Particle. And therefore to find such a Particle, you must look for אֶחָד, not for כֵּן. But שֵׁן, לֵב, יָד, &c. though they are prefix'd to other Particles, and are explain'd separately in the Concordance, yet are not to be consider'd as separable Particles; because they never exist in a separate State, but are always prefix'd to other Words. 3. I have omitted several of Noldius's compound or separable Particles; because they are easily and fully understood from the Parts taken separately; as עַל־כֵּן, Eo quod non. The Mark of the Hebrew Reading (†), when used among the Particles is to be understood, not as giving the Sense of the Original; but only that which Noldius supposes is the Sense.

3. After every Root, that would admit of it, I have insert'd an Explication of it's various Senses, both natural and figurative, upon a Collation of all the Texts, where the Words, under the Root, occur. In revising and correcting the Manuscript for the Press, while I was turning over the Bible to see that all the Quotations were true, I was gradually led to observe how Words varied their Senses in different Situations, and then to attempt a regular Draught or Scheme of those Senses, as they grow out of each other, and diverge into several Branches. This, if but tolerably executed, I was sensible, would be of great Service to explain, in a very easy and authentic Manner, the Language of Scripture, and to shew the Force and Beauty of the Hebrew Tongue even to such as are not dispos'd to learn it, and to recommend it to the Study of those that are. In the common Lexicons, the various Senses of the same Word are laid down in a Manner so confus'd and incoherent, that they seem to have no manner of Connection, but appear to be as different from one another, as if they were the Senses of different Words. This giveth the Student a Notion, that the Hebrew Language is unaccountably arbitrary, perplexed and uncertain, requiring a blind Submission to Authority, without any satisfactory Evidence to regulate the Judgment. But if some primary Notion of a Root can be discovered, which will comprehend, connect and reconcile all the various Senses, into which that Root shooteth out, then the Case will be reversed, and the Hebrew Tongue will be found to enjoy an Advantage of being understood, which perhaps no modern Language, at least, can boast of. Then the Judgment will be provided of a proper Regulator, and the Student may see with his own Eyes; then the Force and Elegance of Words will be more clearly discern'd, their Meaning more solidly adjust'd, the Scripture will be it's own best Interpreter, and the Learning to qualify a Person to understand it will be brought within a reasonable Compass. This is what I have endeavour'd in the Explications annexed to the Roots. Indeed, as the whole Hebrew Tongue is compriz'd within the narrow Limits of the Old Testament, in several Instances, especially of Words but once, or but seldom used, the Method of collating Texts will fail us; and we must have recourse either to Authority, to the sister Dialects, the Arabic, Chaldee, &c. or to the current Sense of the Place, (and that which maketh the best Sense should, in reason, be accounted the truest.) But those Instances are not so numerous, nor of so great Importance, as to discourage, much less to supersede, the Exercise of Judgment, in the Way here recommended. Still there is Scope enough for that, and the Improvement of sacred Literature. Especially, if proper Hands were employ'd in doing the same good Office for the Hebrew Bible, as hath been done for the Greek Testament; I mean, in mending the Text a little, by consulting the most ancient Manuscripts and Versions.

But after all, it cannot reasonably be expected, that the different Senses of Words should every where be reconciled. In all Languages, I suppose many Words, remote in Signification, are wrote and pronounced in the same Manner. As in English; to bray in a Mortar, to bray as an Ass; Mast of a Ship, Mast for Swine; a Mean, a Cause or Instrument, what do you mean? mean Parentage; Light of the Sun, a light Body, to light upon, &c. And the Connection of Senses should be still less expected in Hebrew Roots, where such Words as bad, bed, bid, bud; red, rid, rod; fat, fit, &c. may come under the same Root.

The Metaphor, (which must have been greatly improv'd by Hieroglyphicks, the oldest Kind of Literature) is the clearest and most elegant Conveyance of our Conceptions; and the Hebrew, the most ancient Language, aboundeth with this Figure of Speech: But frequently taken from the Manners and Employments of the earliest Ages of the World. And where they agree with us in the Subject of the Metaphor, they often carry it much further than we do, or turn it to different Cases or Sentiments. We use Light to denote Knowledge; the sacred Writings, with no less Propriety and Elegance, apply it also to Prosperity, Honour, Wealth, or any kind of Happiness. The Student must therefore expect to meet with a new Set of Metaphors, which, at first, he may think very oddly apply'd. But he must divest himself of Prejudice; and prepare his Thoughts to converse with the Writings of a People, who lived, as I may say, in another World, but wrote upon the justest Rules, and most natural Principles.

I am very far from pretending that my Explications of the Roots are perfect and sufficient. What was in my Power I have honestly done, to adjust the Sense of Words, not to supersede, but to encourage and assist, the Endeavours of others; and hope I have every where laid out such an orderly Plan, as, with the Help of the Concordance, will enable the Studious to correct my Errors, and, very probably, to make further Advances in clearing the Language of Scripture.

I have consult'd the best Authors I could procure; Schultens, Coccejus, &c. For Scripture-Animals and Plants, Bochart, Ray, Dr. Shaw's Travels, Celsus the learned Swede, Hiller, &c. But different remote Countries produce Animals and Plants so different, that it is not easy (especially from the Names given them in a Language, which hath been dead two Thousand Years) to settle exactly what they are.

As I fell into this Way of explaining the Roots, not all at once, but by degrees, the Explications under the three first Letters, for that Reason, are not so full and exact as those that follow. This Deficiency I have endeavour'd to make good by a Supplement, insert'd at the End of the Concordance.

The P R E F A C E.

4. I have number'd all the Roots, and all the Branches, or Derivatives, under each Root, after the Manner of Chapter and Verse. By which Means any particular Word, or Place, in the Concordance, may be refer'd to, and very readily found.

5. By numbering the Roots and Branches I have gain'd the Advantage of forming an English Index to the whole Work, by the Help of which the Hebrew Root, to which any principal Word in our Bible belongs, may be discover'd. I was oblig'd to bring this Index into as small a Compass as possible; for an Index at large would have equal'd a full and perfect Concordance, and have swell'd the Work beyond just Bounds. If Figures, refering to the Root and Branch, were added to every Line in the best English Concordance now extant, this would be the compleatest and readiest Index; and would establish a very useful Connection between the Hebrew and English Concordances. However, I have made my Index as particular as can reasonably be expected, considering the great Pains I had taken in compiling the Concordance itself; and so exact and full, that though the Student may happen now and then to spend some Time in seeking what he wants, yet I hope he will seldom, or never, be disappointed. The Rules for using this Index are prefix'd to the Index itself.

Note, In the Numbers of the Roots and Branches, the Reader will find the same Number is sometimes repeated with an Asterism after it; thus, 23. 23 *. This was occasioned by the inserting some Words, and the discovering of some Mistakes in the Numbers of the Roots, after a great Part of the Index was done; and I was very much inclin'd to judge this Expedient preferable to the irksome Labour of working the Index over again.

6. I have added a copious alphabetical Index of Hebrew Words, whose Roots are difficult to investigate, directing not only to the Roots, but to the very Numbers and Places where such Words stand in the grammatical Order. This is an Advantage for Learning the Hebrew Language, which no other Lexicon that the Author hath seen, or heard of, will afford. In other Lexicons, the Conjugates and Derivatives of Hebrew Words are not to be found, but under their proper Roots; and therefore, before a Man can readily use his Lexicon, he must be well acquainted with the several Structures and Variations of Hebrew Words; that is to say, he must be a considerable Proficient in the Language. This must needs be a great Embarrassment to a Learner. And though there are Rules for finding the Roots, they are so tedious, and oblige one to spend so much Time in turning over the Lexicon, that it is very disgusting and discouraging. But by the Help of this Index the Scholar will be directed very readily, and without loss of Time, to the Root, and to the Word itself. This will greatly facilitate the Learning of Hebrew.

7. And further to encourage the same, I have, lastly, given easy Rules for reading Hebrew, exemplify'd in the Paradigmata of all the Verbs both regular and defective; which he that often and carefully reads over will be a good Proficient in the Hebrew Language; as he will very well understand the Principal and most difficult Part of it. What is wanting may be supplied from any Grammar.

So much for the Structure of this Concordance. What follows relates to the Use of it.

S E C T. V.

The Use of this Concordance.

OTHER Concordances serve only to find Places of Scripture; and yet are very useful. But this Concordance answers much nobler Purposes.

I. 'Tis a Lexicon; and, I will venture to say, the best, most compleat and regular Lexicon of the whole Hebrew Language, beyond any that are extant. Here you have every Noun in all its Forms, Numbers and Genders, with all its Prefixes and Suffixes; every Verb, regular and irregular, with all its Conjugations, Moods, Tenses, Participles, &c. And every Particle, whether Word or Letter, in all its various Senses and Compositions, in one uniform grammatical Method, the same from one End of the Concordance to the other, presented to the Student's Eye, in one beautiful View; shewing him not only how every Word is derived from its proper Root, but also how it is declin'd and varied in all its Forms; and how, as it changes its Situation and Form, it changes its Force and Signification, in all the Places of Scripture where it is used. Which must at once give great Satisfaction and Pleasure to the Mind. And if the Learner runs over all the Branches regularly under any Root, he will readily acquaint himself with every Form in which it is used, and render all its Variations and Senses familiar, whenever he meets with any of them in reading the Hebrew Bible. And thus (having first carefully read, and well digested some Hebrew Grammar) one may easily become Master of the Hebrew Tongue. A Thing greatly to be desired by all, whose Business it is to study and preach the Word of God. But this is not all;

II. This Concordance is the best and most authentic Interpreter of Scripture; not only of the Old, but also of the New Testament. For both, as to the main Things, are wrote in the same Words and Phrases; those of the New Testament being but the Words and Phrases of the Old translated into Greek. For the subject Matter, viz. the Things pertaining to the Kingdom of God, are in both the same, indited by the same Spirit, and wrote by Men of the same Nation. Thus the Apostle, 1 Cor. 2. 12, 13. We, Apostles, have received, not the Spirit of the World, but the Spirit which is of God, that we might know the Things that are freely given to us of God; all the Blessings of his Covenant. Which Things also we speak, not in the Words which Man's Wisdom teacheth; not in philosophic Terms of human Invention, but which the Holy Spirit teacheth, in the Writings of the Old Testament, the only Scriptures from which they took their Ideas and Arguments, comparing spiritual Things under that Dispensation with spiritual Things under the Gospel. Whence we may conclude, 1. That the holy Scriptures are admirably calculated to be understood in those Things which we are most of all concern'd to understand. Seeing the same Language runs through the whole, and is set in such a Variety of Lights, that one Part is well adapted to illustrate another. An Advantage I reckon peculiar to the sacred Writings above all others. 2. It follows, that to understand the Sense of the Spirit in the New, 'tis essentially necessary that we understand it's Sense in the Old Testament. But the Sense of the Spirit cannot be understood unless we understand the Language in which that Sense is convey'd. For which Purpose the Hebrew Concordance is the best Expofitor. For there you have in one View presented all the Places of the sacred Code where any Word is used; and by carefully collating those Places, may judge what Sense it will, or will not bear. Which being once settled, there lies no Appeal to any other Writings in the World: Because there are no other Books in all the World in the pure, original Hebrew, but the Books of the Old Testament. A Judgment therefore duly form'd upon them must be absolutely decisive.

Now this is an Advantage which no Concordance in any modern Language can afford. For the same Word in Hebrew may be translated by different Words; and different Words in Hebrew by the same Word in another Language. Consequently, by a Concordance in modern Language 'tis impossible we should discover those Words and Phrases which are the same in the Original. This only can be done by a Concordance of the original Text.

And it is my Design in giving the Hebrew Concordance a new Dress, to make it's Usefulness, as an Expofitor, more generally regarded and improv'd. For even, by Men of learning, it seems hitherto to have been too much neglected. Which I conjecture has been occasioned by it's being all in Hebrew. Which at first sight seems to imply, that a Man must be perfectly Master of that Language, and take a great deal of previous Pains, in order to be qualify'd for a ready and proper Use of the Book. This, I doubt not, has deter'd Scholars from meddling with it. But as I have reduc'd the Words of the Text to English, and the Quotations of Book, Chapter and Verse to that common Manner which is well understood by every Body, it must appear with a more familiar and inviting Aspect; and is much more easy, and better adapted to general Use.

For although I have given the Words of the Text, and the Quotations in English, and though I have taken out of every Text no more than the Word or Words, by which the original Hebrew Word is translated, this doth not at all lessen the Usefulness of the Book for any of the Purposes for which a Hebrew Concordance can serve. 'Tis still a Hebrew Concordance, and answers all the Ends of such a Concordance. For as the Design of it is not merely to find Places, but to ascertain the Sense of Words, it would have avail'd nothing to this Purpose, to have produc'd a larger Quotation out of the English Bible. Because that, at most, could have been only a Scrap of the Verse. But to form a just Idea of the Sense of a Word, we ought to take in the Sense of the whole Verse, perhaps of the whole Paragraph, to which it belongs. And no Man would rest his Judgment of a whole Verse upon an incoherent Scrap detach'd out of it. Therefore, had I insert'd more English Words out of every Text, I should only have swell'd the Work to a greater Bulk and Price, without giving the Student any real Advantage. For as I have ascertain'd the Word or Words in every Text, by which the Hebrew Word is translated, he may turn to his Bible, and see how it stands there, and at leisure compare it with the Original, or any Translation, as well as if I had insert'd the whole Verse.

And by putting the Words of the Text, corresponding to the Hebrew Word, in English, this Concordance is, in a great Measure, brought down to the Capacity of the inquisitive and industrious English Reader; and giveth him an Advantage for understanding the holy Scriptures, by enabling him to judge of the Sense of the original Hebrew, which he never before enjoy'd. For, when he would inquire into the Force of any principal Word, Verb, Noun, or Participle, in our Translation, he must turn to the Index; and there he will be directed to all the Places in the Concordance where that Word is to be found; which he must accordingly look for, in all those Places, 'till he finds the English Word, which he is seeking, and under it the Text in which he reads it in the Bible. Indeed the Scholar, who is but moderately acquainted with Hebrew, has a more expeditious Way. For he'll turn to the Hebrew Text, and there find the Word from which the English is render'd; and knowing the Root whence 'tis deriv'd, will turn to it in the Concordance, and find it in it's proper Place. However, the Expedient of the English Index will be a sufficient Help to those who want it's Assistance; and though it may, now and then, require a little more Time, will lead the Reader to the Place where his Word stands; and where he will find all the other Places of Scripture in which it is used, which he may examine severally, and compare together. He will also find it in Company with all the other Branches deriv'd from the same Root, and all the Places of Scripture where they also are to be found, and so will have (commonly) a large Field for the Exercise of his Judgment. Which the Nature of the Thing will direct him to use with great Care and Caution.

III. This Concordance will serve as a Touchstone to try and prove the Truth of Translations. And, to do our own Translators Justice, and to be otherwise serviceable to the Student, 'tis very proper he should have an English Bible with the Marginal Readings when he useth this Concordance. For that will not only shew the Fidelity and Care of our Translators; but will often assist in judging of the Force and Signification of the Hebrew Words, as I have found in several Instances.

IV. 'Tis obvious to every Body, that this Concordance will be of great Service, in case a new Version of the Bible should be undertaken. For here, at one View, they that are employ'd in that important Work,

The P R E F A C E.

Work, will see under every Word, how variously it is render'd in the present Version; and so, may more easily and exactly judge how just those Renderings are, and how far they may be reduc'd to one and the same Rendering, which is much to be prefer'd, where the Sense will bear it; or whether the Sense may not more properly and clearly be convey'd by other English Words.

For these good Ends I have labour'd long and hard in this Work, and may the Blessing of God attend the Use of it.

The End of the P R E F A C E.

Hyssopus. Hyssop. An Herb which grows in great Plenty on the Mountains near Jerusalem; of a bitter Taste, but seasoned with Honey was commonly eaten. It was used in the sacred Sprinklings of Water and Blood, ty'd to a Cedar-Stick with a Scarlet-Twine, to signify cleansing from Guilt and moral Pollution. The short and tender Stalks of Hyssop could not supply a Reed to reach the Sponge to our Lord upon the Cross. John 19. 29. Mat. 27. 48. Mark 15. 36. Therefore, the Evangelist John means, they bound a Bunch of Hyssop upon a Reed, and the Sponge about the Hyssop, that with the Vinegar he might suck the Bitterness of the Hyssop. Psal. 69. 21. *Cels. אזר 39

Cingere, accingere, cingi.
To gird, or to be girt about the Body; to apply to any Business with Vigour and Resolution; to be supported and encouraged. Note, the Garments in antient times were not adapted to the Body so conveniently as ours are; but, were loose and troublesome, frequently disconcerted, wanting to be tuckt up and folded anew about the Body; and therefore it was necessary they should be girded up with a Belt, or Sash,

in attending any active Employment. Shaw's Travels p. 290.
The Girdle was also supposed to strengthen the Loins.

Accinguntur אָזְרוּ 1

But that Allon, in the Places which here follow from N°. 103. to the End, signifies an Oak; and that they are derived from אֵל Strength. [Root 55.] That different Trees are meant by these different Words is certain from Gen. 35. 4, 8. Isai. 6. 16. Hof. 3. 13. And probably they signify the Trees he mentions.

אלה 69

Deus. A Name of God; importing his Power, Dominion and Authority; derived probably from אֵל El, [Root 55: 7.] which signifies mighty, powerful: for this Name of God is given also to Angels, Psal. 97. 7, and to Magistrates Psal. 82. 6; to whom, with any Probability, it can be applied no otherwise than with Respect to their Strength, (Psal. 103. 20.) Dominion and Authority. [1 Sam. 28. 13. I saw Gods († a God, i. e. a Judge or Magistrate) ascending out of the Earth.]

II. Locusta. A Locust.

An Insect which increases prodigiously, from רבה to multiply. There are various Species of them, which, consequently, have different Names: And some are more destructive to the Fruits of the Earth than others. They are both brought and carried away with the Wind. Boch. Those seen by Dr. Shaw in Barbary, 1724, and 1725, were much larger than our Grasshoppers, and appearing in the latter End of March like a Succession of Clouds darkened the Sun. About the middle of May they retired to the adjacent Plains to deposit their Eggs. In the Month following the young Brood first produc'd from those Eggs, while in their Caterpillar or Worm-like State, formed themselves into a compact Body, several hundred Yards in square, and marching directly forward, climbed over Trees, Walls and Houses, devouring every Plant in their Way. Within a Day or two, another Brood was hatched, and advancing in the same Manner gnaw'd off the young Branches and Bark of Trees, left by the former, making a complete Desolation. The Inhabitants, to stop their Progress, made Trenches full of Water, and set Fire to great Quantities of Heath, Stubble, &c. laid in a long Row; to no Purpose. For the Trenches were quickly fill'd up, and the Fires put out by infinite Swarms succeeding one another; while the Front seemed regardless of Danger, and the Rear press'd on so close, that a Retreat was impossible. In a Month's Time they threw off their Worm-like State, and in a new Form with Wings and Legs, and additional Powers, returned to their former Voracity. But thus they did not continue long, before they were entirely dispersed, as their Parents had been before them, after the laying their Eggs. As their Course was to the Northward, probably they perish'd in the Mediterranean Sea.

These Insects salted and fried, are in Taste, not much unlike the River Cray-Fish. They were used for Food in the eastern Countries, and the Jews were allowed to eat them. Shaw's Travels, p. 256, 257, 258.

If the true reading was כָּרַץ, it doth not appear from the Hebrew that it signifieth, they have pierced, or digged. אֶרֶץ 112

Cedrus. The Cedar Tree. Celsus asserts, that the Tree properly called cedrus or Cedar, is of the Juniper kind, and bears Berries; whereas what we call the Cedar of Lebanon bears Cones. For this and other Reasons he concludes, that the ברש, or Abies, is the Cedar of Lebanon; [see an Account of it under Root 231.] and that אֶרֶץ, which we translate Cedar, is the Pine-tree, very tall, streight and beautiful, growing upon Mountains, and in cold Countries, fit for Mafts of Ships, Ezek. 27. 5. which the Cedar of Lebanon cannot be; seeing it shoots into many very large Branches about seven or eight Feet from the Ground. Olav. Celf. Hierobot. Part. I. p. 106.

בוא 158

Hath two Significations.

I. Venire: Ingredi:
Congredi: Occumbere. Its Sense is very extensive. To come, to come to, to come in,
to enter, to go into; to lie with a Woman; to go down, or set,
as the Sun; to be advanced in Years. To go, to go away;
to bring, or make to come.
To come to one by way of Allotment, to be allotted; to come as an Event or Accident, to come to pass, to befall; to follow, &c.

ברך 228

Hath three Significations.

I. Benedicere. To blefs. God bleffeth us, when he makes us prosperous and happy. We blefs God, when we esteem him highly and speak of him honourably, for his excellent Goodness. Hence the Word signifies to praise. One Man bleffeth another, when he wisheth his Welfare and Happiness. Hence it signifies to salute, to thank, to congratulate; which were exprest by kind Wishes. A Blessing is a bountiful Gift, a Present; something that is good and useful. Sometimes the Word means to blaspheme, to curse; not from its natural Force, but because pious Persons of old accounted Blasphemy so abominable, that they abhorred to express it by it's proper Name: and therefore by an Euphemismus, or decent Manner of speaking, instead of curse God, said blefs God ||. Schultens observes, that to blefs is sometimes the same as to bid farewell; and therefore, as 'tis usual to bid farewell to what we reject, disregard, or have done with, to blefs may signify to disregard, to take no notice of. Thus it may suit Job 1. 5. but agrees not so well with 1 Kings 21. 23.

ברת 232

Hath two Significations.

I. Foedus, Pactum. A Grant of Favour, a Deed of Gift, freely bestow'd, and solemnly assured by the most High God. Which, as it puts those, to whom it is made, into a new and happier State, seems to have an Affinity with בְּרִית [224.] To keep God's Covenant is to behave suitably to the Blessings bestow'd. Also a Compact, Agreement or League between Man and Man; which likewise puts their Affairs into a new State.

Tectum. The Roof or Top of the House, which in Palestine was flat, and covered with strong Terrace Mortar; like those in Barbary describ'd by Dr. Shaw in his Travels, p. 276. It was encompass'd with a Wall, or Battlement, Deut. 22. 8. or Balustrades or Lattice-work Breast high, 2 Kings 1. 2. Upon these Terraces several Offices of the Family might be perform'd; as drying of Linen, preparing of Figs and Raisins. Here they could lay stalks of Flax, &c. erect Booths in a Time of rejoicing (Neb. 8. 16.) or Altars for idolatrous Worship. Here, from the Battlement, they had a Prospect into the Street, Court or adjacent Gardens. Here they enjoy'd the cool refreshing Breezes of the Evening; convers'd privately together, and offer'd up their Devotions, Acts 10. 9.

Hath two Significations.

I. Redimere, vindicare.

To recover, or retrieve; to redeem, to deliver; to avenge or vindicate. Among the Israelites the nearest Relation had a Right to redeem the mortgag'd Estate of his deceased Kinsman, to marry his Widow, and to avenge his Death, in case he were murdered, by slaying the Murderer: :
 on all which Accounts such Relation is called נאה Redeemer or Vindicator. The Word is also applied to the redeeming of fold
 or mortgag'd Estates in general ;
 to the rescuing from any kind of Evil, from Bondage, Danger, Violence, Enemies, Destruction and Death. And he who so rescueth is also called a Redeemer.

Nile, four or five Yards in height.
Under the Bark it consisted wholly of thin Skins, which being separated and spread out were apply'd to divers uses. Of these they made Boxes and Chests, and even Boats, smearing them over with Pitch. Being properly prepared these Skins serv'd also for Paper, till a much better Way of making it was invented. Celf.

דרש 408

Quaerere, percunctari.

To seek or search after any Thing; to enquire; to ask Advice, Help or Direction. To seek God, or unto God, is to trust in him, to worship him, and endeavour to gain his Favour and Blessing: and so to seek unto Idols, 2 Chron. 25. 14, 15. To seek to an Altar or Temple, is to frequent it in a religious Manner, 2 Chron. 1. 5. Deut. 12. 5. Amos 5. 5. To seek by Prayer and Supplication; to enquire of God or Idols in doubtful Cases. To seek a Person's Life is to attempt to kill him. To seek God's Works, is to endeavour to understand them; to seek God's Precepts, is to study and obey them; to seek Judgment, Mischief, is to employ one's self in exercising Justice, doing Mischief. To look after, to take care of, to regard, to be concerned for a Thing, Person or People; to seek their Peace, is to promote their Happiness. To look after a Person to see that he doth his Duty,

M m m

2 Chron. 24. 6. To enquire about, to question, to examine, to take cognizance of an Affair. To require or expect Duty from a Person. To require Blood or Sin, is to make the Murtherer or Sinner answerable for it.

הלל 447

Hath three Significations.

I. Laudare. To shine, as the Sun, Moon and Stars, or any lucid Object. [See the third Signification.] Metaphorically, in Pibel, to make a Person to shine, by commending, praising or extolling him or his Actions.
To praise, to make illustrious,
by Words or Deeds, or by happy Circumstances, which are to the Honour of the Person who is the Occasion of them, Prov.
31. 28. The Praise of any Person, is that in him which makes him illustrious and praise-worthy. God is the Praise of his Saints, as he is known, honoured and celebrated by them for his glorious Perfections and Works. To make one's self shine, to boast of one's self; to be puffed up with vain Glory,
to vaunt, to rave with foolish Conceit: Hence to be mad, to rage. [Signif. II.]

Uncini. Hooks, like Tenter-hooks; or like those upon which Doors turn. They were fasten'd to the Tops of the Pillars belonging to the Tabernacle which Moses built, and the Curtains and Veil of the Tabernacle were hung upon them. From these Hooks the Letter Vau took its Name and Shape.

Conjunctio. The great, and almost sole Conjunction among the Hebrews. As its Name and Shape, so also its Use is taken from the Hooks at the Tops of the Pillars of the Tabernacle upon which the Curtains were hung. There it was an Instrument of joining the Curtains to the Tabernacle: and so in Speech its Use is to join two Things or Sentiments together. Naturally it signifies AND; and conveys this Idea, that what follows is in Connection with what went before. But the Manner of that Connection is to be understood from the Series of the Discourse, and the Relation of the Sentiments which are connected. Hence result various Senses of this Conjunction in our Language; as therefore, then, but, or, though, even, with, nevertheless, moreover, likewise, &c.

זכר 500

Hath two Significations.

I. Recordari : Odorari,
de sacrificiis. Schultens (upon Prov. 10. 7.) affirms, that the primary Sense of this Word stands in a brisk, vigorous Fla- vour, Scent or Fragrance, Hof.
14. 7. Thus Incense is said to be burnt upon the Altar for a Memorial; rather, for a Fra- grance, to represent the Accept-ableness of sincere Devotion,
Lev. 2. 2, 9, 16. —24. 7. Isai.
66. 3. Hence, metaphorically, the Fragrance or Nobleness, Fame and Renown of great, or good Actions, Psal. 145. 7.
Prov. 10. 7. To commemorate, to celebrate great and noble
Persons or Deeds, Psal. 111. 4.
Isai. 12. 4. 1 Chron. 16. 4. A Monument, a Memorial which brings famous Events, Persons, Deeds or Things into Remembrance with God or Man, Exod.
3. 15. —12. 14. —28. 12.
Job. 4. 7. Zech. 6. 14. To record, to register in order to preserve the Memory of Things, Events, &c. Ezra. 6. 1. Hence, to remember, to call to mind, to be mindful of; to bring to Remembrance by mentioning, to mention, Gen. 40. 14. A Thing which a Person mentions as memorable, Job 13. 12.

זמם 504

Cogitari. According to Schultens the original Notion, from the Arabic, is to tie fast, to tie up as a Camel or Horse with a Halter or Head-stall. Hence 'tis applied to the Mind, and signifies a fixed, deliberate Purpose to which the Mind is, as it were, tied up by a Course or Series of Thoughts; and which is so fixed and settled in the Heart, that it will not be loosed from it. Under this particular Force it signifies to consider, to devise, to contrive, to design, either in a good and virtuous, or in a bad and vicious Way. 1. In a good Way, it denotes to consider, design and purpose what is right, proper and convenient, Prov. 31. 16. Zech. 8. 14, 15. To form and attach the Mind to good Principles and Practices; and then it is Discretion, sound Judgment; or Sagacity, Skill and Dexterity in devising and executing wise Expedients, Prov. 1. 4. —8. 12. 2. In a bad Way, 'tis to meditate, plot, and design Mischief; to be attach'd to Wickedness. Such Wickedness as shews itself to be fixed and settled in the Heart; audacious, daring Wickedness. A base Intention or Design, Prov. 21. 27. Craftiness, Subtlety, Prov. 24. 9. But Schultens judgeth the original Notion, to tie up, brancheth out into another Sense, namely, to raise, or carry the Head high through Pride, to draw or bridle up the Nostrils by way of Sneer or Disdain. Hence, to behave in a proud, scornful, haughty, insolent Manner, Prov. 14. 17. —30. 32. And this, for any Thing I know, may be very true.

The Camelo pardalis or Jeraffa.
 [Shaw's Suppl. p. 78, 88.] An horned Animal, mild like the Sheep, spotted like the Leopard;
 it's Neck seven Feet long; from Head to Tail eighteen Feet; it's Head, when lifted up, reaches sixteen Feet from the Ground; the fore Legs are much longer than the hind Legs, which makes it difficult to eat Grass, and obliges
 it to jump when it runs. Raii Synops. Quadrup. p. 90. As it lives chiefly by cropping, and,
 as it were, pruning the Leaves
 and tender Branches of Trees, probably it took it's Name from this Circumstance, and might be called, the Pruner.

זנה 508

Scortari. To play the Harlot. 'Tis commonly meant of a married Woman, who goeth astray from her Husband. And as God is pleased to assume the Character of a Husband to his Church, and peculiar People, when they forsake the Duty, Fidelity and Love which they owe to him, and fall into Idolatry, going after other Gods, they are frequently charged with Adultery and Whoredom; which is to be understood in a spiritual Sense. And once they that consult Wizards and familiar Spirits, are said to go a Whoring, Lev. 20. 6. as thereby they depart from that Faith and Trust which is due to God alone.

חבה 535

Sartagines, cacabi. An Utensil, in or on which Meat-offerings were cooked; but it's Form cannot be certainly known. Perhaps it was a broad, smooth Plate of Iron, upon which, being heated by a Fire made under it, they baked Cakes of fine Flower made up with Oil; after the same Manner as they bake Oat-cakes in the North-Country. This seems most probable from Ezek. 4. 3; for an Iron-Plate of this Form, set on its Edge, would best serve to represent a Wall.

חול 559

Hath four Significations.

I. Dolere, dolere afficere, Parturire, eniti partum, Expectare, trepidare. To travail in Child-Birth; to be in great Pain, Pangs, Anguish, Grief, Sorrow. To fear and tremble as in Anguish and Horror of Mind 1 Chron. 16. 30. Psal. 29. 8. It is applied to great Calamity which falls grievously and rests or stays for some time upon a Person, City or Nation [Signif. II.] [no hostile hands stayed on Sodom, to protract the Miseries of her Destruction, as they did in the Destruction of Jerusalem, Lam. 4. 6.] To bring forth, to produce [Signif. III.]

Note, the grammatical Formation of those four Roots חול to travail in Child-Birth, חלה (586) to be sick, grieved, חלל (582) to be wounded, to profane, to pollute, יחל (744) to wait, to expect, is so similar and intermixed, that the Sense of several Words, placed here under חול, is taken from some one of those other Roots; especially such as signify to wound and wait for: and perhaps such Words here ought to have been placed under those other Roots.

חוש 564

Festinare. To make great Haste; to do a Thing vigorously and expeditiously; to be quite willing and ready to act, Numb. 32. 17. Schultens [upon Job 20. 2.] saith the Word חוש in the Arabic signifies, among other Things, to be hurried or disquieted through Terror. This may enter into the Sense of the Word in Hebrew; which it will very well bear Ifai. 28. 16. He that believeth shall not make haste, or be thrown into the Hurries of Terror and Despair, through the Disappointment of his Hope and Dependence. Which is much the same thing as, he shall not be ashamed, or confounded. See Root 166. Signif. II.

- Festinat* חש 1

חזה 566

Hath three Significations.

I. Videre, aspicere, Respicere. To introduce Light into a Building. A Window-Light, 1 Kings 7. 4, 5. To introduce or admit Light into the Mind, either by attending to Objects, Prov. 24. 32; or by Instruction, Job 34. 32. To consider, to reflect upon, to attend unto, Psal. 17. 2. —46. 8. Ifai. 26. 11. To understand, perceive, to be sensible of, to have learned, to be acquainted with, Job 15. 17. —27. 12. —36. 25. To observe, Prov. 22. 29. [Observe and consider out of all the People who are able Men, Exod. 18. 21.] To see so as to be happy in, or pleased with what we see, Exod. 24. 11. Psal. 11. 7. —17. 15. Cant. 6. 13. Job 19. 26. Ifai. 33. 17. Mic. 4. 11. To contemplate with delight, Psal. 27. 4. —63. 2. 'Tis applied metaphorically to the Roots of a Tree, Job 8. 17. [Seeth, penetrates as far as, the Place of Stones. [Signif. II.] Notable, conspicuous, Horns, Dan. 8. 8. [Signif. II.] A Vision was an extraordinary Communication of Intelligence from God, Ifai. 21. 2. A Seer was one who received such Intelligence. See one Instance of a Vision, 2 Sam.

2 Sam. 7. 4.—17. But Vision sometimes seems to mean Instruction in the Law in an ordinary way, Ezek. 7. 26. Sometimes Attention to such Instruction, Prov. 29. 18. Star-gazers, or Stars-seers were such as studied, and pretended to receive Intelligence from the Stars.]

III. Profanare. Figura- tively, I. To break, to dissolve the Texture or Force of an Obligation; to stab, slay or make it void, Numb. 30. 2. Psal. 55.
20. —89. 34. [Agreeably to this Sense, Bishop Pearson on the Creed (after Grotius) saith;
“ One ancient Custom of cancelling Bonds, was by strik“ ing a Nail through the Writ“ ing;” to which the Apostle may allude, Col. 2. 14.] II. To dissolve, stab or slay the real or relative Holiness of Persons or Things; to defecrate, to profane, pollute, defile. Applied to the Jewish Nation, whom God treated as if they had not been his People and Inheritance, when they were carried into Captivity, Isai. 47. 6. Lam. 2.

2. —to the Temple when destroyed, or treated as a common Building, Ezek. 25. 3. —to a Priest, who was profaned, when he did any thing which disqualified him for his Office, Lev.
21. 4. —to any hallowed Thing, which was defecrated by being eaten contrary to the Law, Lev.
19. 8. —to a Place or Thing that is common or unholy, as distinguished from that which is Holy, or consecrated, Lev. 10.
10. Ezek. 22. 26. —48. 15.
Particularly, 'tis applied to the Fruit of a Tree, when first eaten
of by the Owner, after the fourth Year, in which it was consecrated to God, was expired, [Lev. 19. 23, 24, 25.] Deut.
20. 6. [eaten of it † profaned, defecrated it.] —28. 30. [gather, † profane, the grapes thereof.] Jer. 31. 5. —to the Sabbath, or any Ordinances profaned by not being duely observed; Lev. 22. 9. Psal. 89.
31. Ezek. 20. 16. —to God, profaned by the Violation of his Constitutions, Ezek. 22. 26. —
to the Name of God, profaned
by Swearing falsely, Lev. 19. 12.
—to Chastity and the Marriage-
Bed, profaned by Lewdness, Gen. 49. 4. Lev. 19. 29. —to Justice, Honour, Goodness, profaned by acting contrary to them. Hence, an action is termed profane. or Profaneness, Pol- lution, which is void of Honour,
Justice and Goodness, Gen. 44.
7. [God forbid that thy Servants should do († Profaneness would be to thy Servants from doing, or if they should do) according to this thing; i. e. it would be unjust and dishonourable in us to do this Thing.] 1 Sam. 24.
6 † 7. [The Lord forbid, that I should do this Thing † it would be Profaneness to me from the Lord (or the highest Degree of Dishonour and Injustice) if I should do this Thing.] III. To dissolve, slay, annul Dignity and Splendor, by sinking the Honourable and Illustrious into a contemptible, vile Condition,
Psal. 89. 39. Isai. 23. 9. Ezek.
28. 7.

VI. Placenta. A Cake. The Shew-bread consisted of Cakes of this Sort, Lev. 24. 5. And if they were like the unleavened Cakes, which the Jews now make, and may at any time be seen at London, the Connection with the Root is very apparent. For these are broad Cakes, perforated all over with Holes like a Honey-Comb, to prevent any Fermentation. And from the Force of this Root, it seems probable, that this was the Form (whatever was the Size) of the Cakes mentioned in the Texts that follow.

Mutare, ri, innovari :
transire. To paſs. To paſs through, as a Nail that is driven,

(Judg. 5. 26.) as an Arrow that is ſhot, (Job 20. 24.) or as a Knife that is ſtuck through the Body. Hence the Name of the Knives uſed in ſticking the Sacrifices, Exra 1. 9. To paſs through a Country, Iſai. 8. 8.
To paſs forward on the Road,
1-Sam. 10. 3. To paſs away
Job 9. 26. Cant. 2. 11. Iſai. 2.
18. [the Idols he ſhall quite paſs
away, i. e. aboliſh.] To paſs
from one Thing, Degree, Condition or Station to another.
Hence, 1. To change or alter,
Gen. 31. 7. —35. 2. Lev. 27.
10. Iſai. 9. 10. —24. 5. Numb.
18. 21. [in exchange for their aſreſh, Job 14. 7. Pſal. 90. 6.

To advance in Degrees of Strength and Vigour, Job 29.
20. Iſai. 40. 31. 3. To take in Turns or Courſes by Succeſſion,
1 Kin. 5. 14. Job 10. 17. [Changes and War are againſt me; i. e. a War in which one Body of Men ſucceeds another, and makes a freſh Attack: Meaning the Variety of Afflictions which had befallen him.] Samſon was a Nazarite, whoſe Hair was ne-

Years of Age; conſequently it muſt be very long, and being divided into ſeven Locks or Leaſhes might be braided or plaited, and hang down upon his Back, after the Manner Dr.
Shaw deſcribes (Trav. p. 293, 294.) As each of the Locks in braiding muſt take it's Turn or Coarſe, hence they might be called מחלפות, Judg. 16. 13,

Profanari, profanare. Schultens saith, the original Force of this Word, is to be wry, or bow-legged; which must occasion a weak, wagging, deformed, irregular Motion, very different from the steady, upright Gate of those who walk upon Legs firm and streight. This Image may be used in the sacred Writings to represent the perverse, irregular, deformed and disorderly Principles and Behaviour of impious and wicked Men; and may, in this view, signify to act wickedly and impiously in Contempt of God and his holy Law: and a Country favouring and practising any Kind of Wickedness may be considered as being in a wrong distorted State in the Sight of God. But it doth not appear that Hypocrisy, or an insincere Profession of Religion for sinister Ends, enters into the Sense of this Word.

Profanata est חֲנֹפָה 1
is defiled Isai. 24. 5.
Profanant חֲנֹפוּ 2

חפף 618

Hath two Significations.

I. Tegere, obtegere. The primary Sense is commonly supposed to be, to cover by way of Protection; hence, the Covert of a Chamber or Closet; also a Harbour, where Ships are cover'd from Storms. And the Notion of being clean, (Job 33.
9.) is judged to be taken from the Use of the Word in Syriac;
or from the Cleanness of Things that are cover'd up. But Schul- tens affirms, that the primary Sense of the Word, taken from the Chaldee, Syriac and Arabic, is, to rub bright, wash, make clean, comb, adorn, &c. Hence a Chamber from it's clean and neat Contents; also to cover and secure as in a Chamber; hence also, the Sea-shore, from it's being washed or made clean with the constant Motion of the Waves. Schult. upon Job
33. 9.

Protegit חָפַף 1

of, thou animadvertest upon, all my Paths, all my deviating, erroneous Paths, and dost engrave, pourtray thy Displeasure, thy dreadful Sentence, upon the Soles of my Feet. Alluding, perhaps,
to the Punishment of Slaves,
probably, that ran away, by binding them, and making their Legs fast, and then beating them severely with a Battoon or Staff on the Soles of their Feet. This occasioned great Pain and Pu-trefaction of the Parts. To which ver. 28. seems to allude. And

I. Siccari, exſiccari.

I. To drain; as the Flood was drained from off the Earth at the Deluge, Gen. 8. 13. Or as Water is drained, from a Brook that is run dry, Isai. 19. 6. II. That which is drained of Water, Job. 4. 18. 2 Kings 2. 8. Isai. 48. 21. Or Moisture, Judg. 16. 7. Prov. 17. 1. Or Blood, by being stabbed with a Sword, 2 Kings 3. 23. III. Figuratively, to be in a drained, exhausted Condition, to be defolate, as a Country or City when stripped of Inhabitants, Cattle, &c. Jer. 33. 10. Ezek. 36. 35, 38. To be stupified through Amazement and Horror, i. e. to be in a drained, exhausted Condition with respect to Vigor and Prefence of Mind, Jer. 2. 12. IV. That which draineth or exhausteth, either properly or figuratively; as Drought, which exhausteth the Body, Gen. 31. 40. An Enemy, that exhausteth and destroyeth a Country, Judg. 16. 24. A Sword, that draineth or exhausteth the Body of Blood and Life, Gen. 31. 26. Hence, a Knife, Ezek. 5. 1. 1 Kings 18. 28. Also any Tool that is used in hewing or breaking Stone, demolishing Walls or Altars, stubbing up Groves; as Pick-axes, Mattocks, &c. Exod. 20. 25. Ezek. 26. 9. 2 Chron. 34. 6.

I. Probris afficere, pro- bro exponere. To pluck or strip off Fruit. I. Hence it signifies, 1. Autumn, the Season
when Fruits are plucked, Job
29. 4. [the Days of my Autumn,
i. e. the most plenteous and prosperous Part of my Life.]
2. By putting the Part for the Whole, it signifies the Winter
Half year, [as קיץ, the Summer,
is put for the Summer Half-year, including the Spring.]
Gen. 8. 22. Psal. 74. 18. [Signific. II.] Hence it may well signify cold Weather, Prov. 20.
4. 3. To pluck, or gather the Fruits of Autumn, Isai. 18. 6.
[the Fowls shall summer, and the Beasts shall autumn upon them,
i. e. shall pluck, plunder and feed upon their Summer and Autumn Fruits.] See Schultens
on Job 29. 4. II. To pluck, or deflower Virginity, Lev. 19.
20. [betrothed to a Man,] i. e.
who has lien with a Man, a Husband, to whom she is espoused. III. To pluck, or strip off,

(i. e. to disparage, to vilify) a Man's Character, Reputation, Honour; to reproach, rail on,
blaspheme, Neb. 6. 13. Psal.
119. 42. — 57. 3. [from the

Amare, defiderare. To connect, or join together. Applied to the Rods which run between the Pillars in the Tabernacle, and upon which the Curtains, that furrounded it, were suspended it. [Note, round about the Tabernacle there was a Space of five Cubits, or almost three Yards, between Pillar and Pillar. Therefore, the Curtains, or Hangings, which were instead of a Wall to the Tabernacle, could not be sufficiently supported by hanging only upon Hooks at the Tops of the Pillars; there must be Rods or Bars [of Silver] near three Yards long, which extended from Pillar to Pillar; and being fastned by Hooks to the Tops of the Pillars, connected them together, and suspended the Curtains in a regular and proper Manner. And these connecting Rods or Bars, I make no doubt, were the Fillets mentioned, Exod. 27. 10. —38. 10, 11, &c.] It is also ap-Frontalia. It is certain from Exod. 13. 9, 16, that this Word is used in general for a Memorial. It might be some rich shining Ornament of Gems

or Jewels, which so much pleased and attracted the Eye, that the Jews are commanded to regard the Law of God with the same Delight and Attention.

But the precise Sense of the Word is unknown.

Hath two Significations.

I. Tegere, obtegere. The Dew, which refreshes, invigorates, and promotes the Growth of all Vegetables, and, while it continues, beautifies and adorns them with the Drops thereof, as with so many shining Pearls.

But when the Sun waxeth hot, it is all quickly exhaled, and vanisheth away. What Relation Dew has to the Verb, (Neb. 3. 15.) is uncertain. Thereby undoubtedly is signified some extraordinary Piece of Work, which Shallum added to the Gate that he repaired, more than was done by the other Repairers. But whether it was some additional Ornament, or whether he laid a Roof over it, we know not.

Amica יָדִירֹת 6
 amiable Psal. 84. 1.

Dilectio יָדִירֹת * 7
 the dearly beloved Jer. 12. 7.

Hath three Significations.

I. Facere, dejic. projic.

jaculari. This Word seems to come from יָד the Hand; and may signify to exercise the Hand vigorously and studiously in any way; which must be understood according to the Sense and

Scope of the Place: as, to exercise the Hand strenuously in shooting, Jer. 50. 14. — in breaking or cutting off Horns,

Zech. 1. 21. — in heaving a great Stone over the Mouth of a Dungeon, Lam. 3. 53. — in casting Lots, Obad. 11.

Jaculamini יָדוּ 1
 shoot Jer. 50. 14.

PIH. Ad dejicien- לְיָדוֹת 2
dum

to cast out Zech. 1. 21. + 2. 4.

Projecerunt יָדוּ 3
 they have cast Joel 3 + 4. 3.

cast Obad. 11. Nab. 3. 10.

Et projiciunt וּיָדוּ 4
 and [they have] cast Lam. 3.

53.

II. Confiteri, celebrare.

I know not how to connect this with the Root, unless we suppose it comes from יָד as it signifies a public Memorial [See

Root 731.] which may not be improimprobable, if we consider, That the Hand, the Instrument of conferring Deliverance, or any Blessing, would, in the early and hieroglyphical Ages of the World, be naturally made to represent saving Power, or Goodness and Munificence. And that a Hand portrayed, or engrav'd in Wood or Stone, and set up in a public Place, might be judg'd a proper Way of making open and perpetual Acknowledgment of the Power and Goodness, which had procur'd or bestow'd any signal Favour. I take this from a Hint in Dr. Patrick's Comment. on 1 Sam. 15. 12. where it is said, Saul set up a Hand after his Victory over the Amalekites. Hence the Word might come to signify (however it doth certainly signify) to be thankful, to praise, to make grateful and public Acknowledgment of the Hand, the Goodness and Power of God; and, in general, to make open Acknowledgment and Confession in any respect, that had a Tendency to the Honour of God.

יחב 735

Hath two Significations.

I. Onus. I. To supply what is wanting, Gen. 30. 1. [Supply me Children, or else I die.] Prov. 30. 15. [Give, give + supply, supply; or More, more.] Judg. 1. 15. [Supply me a Blessing: for thou hast given me a dry South-land, give me also Springs of Water.] Job 6. 22. [Did I say, supply to me; or supply my Wants.] Psal. 55. 22. [Cast thy Burthen + the Supply of thy Wants, upon the Lord.] II. To supply the Defects of Knowledge, 1 Sam. 14. 41. [Give a perfect Lot, + supply Perfection, or a perfect Discovery; alluding to the Judgment of Thummim, Neh. 7. 65.] III. To supply the Labourer with the Wages he wants, Gen. 29. 21. Zech. 11. 12. [Give me my Price + supply, pay my Wages.] To supply, or contribute joint Endeavours, where Advice or Assistance is wanting, Judg. 20. 7. Hence an Interjection of Encouragement or Excitation, which we translate well enough, go to, come on; but in it's strict original Propriety it imports, Supply, give your Assistance, join Heart and Hand, Gen. 11. 3. Exod. 1. 10. 1 Chron. 16. 28. [give, supply, —unto the Lord Glory and Strength, i. e. contribute your joint Endeavours, supply each others Deficiencies in extolling the great God; or supply what is defective in former Efforts; exert yourselves still more and more; you can never enough magnify his infinite Glory and Strength.] IV. To supply, to substitute one Thing in the Place of another that is wanting, Ruth 3. 15. [Bring the Veil, i. e. supply your Apron, or use it instead of a Bag, which was wanting.] Gen. 47. 16. [Give your Cattel; supply your Cattel, or give them to supply the Failure of your Money, ver. 15.] V. It is also a military Term, signifying to draught out Men, whose Assistance is wanted as Supplies in any particular Post, Deut. 1. 13, and to assign them that Post, 2 Sam. 11. 15. Supply Uriah, i. e. assign him his Post in the Fore-front of the hottest Battel.

יום 737

Dies. A Day. It is frequently put for Time in general; as in the Day, signifieth, in the Time when; in that Day, at that Time. Day is also put for a particular Season or Time, when any extraordinary Event happens, whether it be prosperous and joyful, Psal. 118. 24. Ezek. 39. 8, 13. Hof. 1. 11. or adverse and calamitous, Jer. 17. 18. —46. 21. Which Day is denominated either from the Lord, who appoints it, Jer. 46. 10. Lam. 1. 21. Ezek. 30. 3. Joel 1. 15. —2. 1, 2. Zeph. 1. 7, 14, &c. Or from those who suffer in it, Job 18. 20. Psal. 137. 7. Ezek. 21. 25. All the Day, all the Day long, is the same as always, continually. Days are put for Years, Gen. 41. 1. [See below N° 27 B.] Other Peculiarities may be seen, and easily accounted for, in the several English Translations.

Bonum esse, vel videri.
 This Word has nearly the same Signification with טוב. Only whereas טוב is generally used as a Noun, this is always used as a Verb; (except a few Places, N° 49, 50, 51) and in Kal signifies to be well in any respect; to be in easy, prosperous Circumstances; to be glad, cheerful, happy; to be pleasing, agreeable, right, fitting, acceptable. In Hiphil to do good, to use one well, to shew one Favour; to do any Thing well, in the best Manner; or with an extraordinary Degree of Attention, Earnestness, Activity, Industry. Hence joined with a Verb, or standing before an infinitive Mood or a Gerund, it takes the Place and Nature of an Adverb in our Language, and is to be understood according as it happens to be applied. Jer. 1. 12. Thou hast well seen † thou hast done well in seeing, i. e. thou hast seen truly, hast not mistaken the Object. 1 Sam. 16. 17. that can play well † that can do well in playing, i. e. can play skilfully. So Psal. 33. 3. Ezek. 33. 32. Again, Prov. 30. 29. go well, —are comely in going † do well in walking, going, i. e. walk, advance, stoutly, stately, majestically. Deut. 9. 21. ground it very small † in grinding it well, i. e. thoroughly. Deut. 13. 14. —17. 4. —19. 18. ask, enquire diligently † ask, enquire well, i. e. accurately, carefully. Deut. 27. 8. write —very plainly † write by declaring well † i. e. clearly, intelligibly. 2 Kings 11. 18. brake they in pieces thoroughly † well, i. e. all to pieces. In those Instances, it is evident, that doing well relates to the doing any Thing whatsoever thoroughly, in the most proper, compleat and effectual Manner. And so in the following Places; Deut. 5. 28. † they have done well, or gooded all that they have spoken, i. e. they have spoken in the properest Manner. Hof. 10. 1. made goodly images † have gooded Images, i. e. have bestowed great Art and Cost upon them. Mic. 7. 3. That they may do evil with both hands earnestly † Upon the doing of Evil both Hands to good it, i. e. in doing Evil they exert both Hands to do it thoroughly and effectually. Jon. 4. 4, 9. Here the infinitive Mood is used substantively [An to benefacere irae tibi?] † is the gooding, or doing well, of anger to thee? i. e. art thou greatly, thoroughly grieved and fretted? [See Root 637.]

Arguere, increpare, corripere, reprehendere, judicare; disceptare. To shew, to prove in order to convince or refute by Reasons, Arguments or Actions, I. To shew or prove by Reason, that a Thing is or should be so, Gen. 24. 14, 44. [thou hast appointed for thy servant Isaac + thou hast pointed out by the Reason of the Case to be Isaac's Wife. The Force of the Word refers to the Promise, ver. 7. and Chap. 15. 16, 18, which excluded the devoted Canaanitish Nations, and made it proper that Isaac should have a Wife out of his own Family, namely, Rachel, the Granddaughter of Nabor, Abraham's

Brother. This, doubtless, God shewed to Abraham, as a Thing consonant to the Promise. And accordingly he sent his Servant to take his Brother's Daughter, i. e. Rachel, unto his Son, ver. 48. And, saith the Servant, let the Damsel who shall behave in such a particular Manner, be Rachel, whom, by the Reason of the Case, thou hast shewn Abraham, ought to be Isaac's Wife.] Job 6. 25. [But what doth your arguing, your Reasonings and Reflections, reprove, prove, demonstrate, evince?] Job 19. 5. [plead, prove, against me, or upon me, my reproach.] II. To convince a Person of Wrong done, to shew him his Faults, to reprove, rebuke, Gen. 20. 16. —21. 25. Job 6. 26. [to reprove Words, to shew the Errors of my Words, to carp at the extravagant Expressions of my Grief? Whereas the Speeches of a desperate Man are but Wind.] —15. 3. יֵלֵךְ 754

Ire, ambulare. This Word is of the same Signification with יֵלֵךְ R. 450. But it is used only in the infinitive and future Tenses of Kal, and in the Conjugation Hipbil. It signifies to go, to walk; and, according to different Directions in going, it signifieth to go to, to come, to go away, to depart, &c. In Hipbil it is to make to go, to carry, to lead, to bring, &c. It also denotes any progressive Motion, as the Sailing of a Ship, the Growing of a Plant, &c.
